Characteristic tendencies : These individuals are often very fortunate and prosperous because of their basic tendency to stay in one place, stay focussed on their goals, and accumulate assets. They relate well to practical, down-to-earth matters, and have an excellent intellect and ability to express themselves. They have a prominent tendency to be somewhat conservative and stubborn, and do not welcome any type of changes.

Patient and hard working, they are willing to sacrifice for the sake of the future. Their work may involve some long-term process with an idealistic flavor, where an idea is the key to success.

They may encounter obstacles in the realm of parenthood. They may experience problems or delays in getting children, or deal with challenges raising them. Under the influence of their ruling planet Venus, they may be very fond of beauty, comforts, and harmony, as well as the opposite sex. But their marriage partner is likely to be a bit sharp and intense. There maybe a tendency of having disagreements with the partner or the partner may somehow be the cause of some problems in their life.
